EBS Addenda files have a file name with the structure of contract#.00x, where x indicates the addenda number. (Ex. 06-0E6804.001 is the first EBS Addenda file for 06-0E6804)

Save the addenda file in the same location as the .EBS file, and when the .EBS file is opened, BID will incorporate the addenda into the .EBS file for you.

The EBS Addenda file will modify the .EBS file, and if any folders have been completed, it will only require new entries for those items modified by the addenda.

Addenda can also be incorporated by opening BID, select "File", and then select "Load Amendment", locate addenda file, select the file, then select "Open." An Amendment Changes window will open, and the first folder on the left will show the number of amendments applied, indicating successful incorporation of addenda. The Amendment changes window cannot be changed in size. Select the "Print" button to print the details of the Amendment change.

If a bid item is eliminated from the Bid Item List, the eliminated bid item will have an Item Code of "BLANK" and there will be no description for the eliminated bid item. The eliminated bid item will have a fixed price of $0.00, which cannot be modified.

If an addenda has been issued for a contract, Bidx will prevent you from submitting your bid until you have incorporated the EBS Addenda file into your bid.

Upon successful incorporation of the Addenda, Expedite Bid will indicate the number of Addenda that have been incorporated. Expedite Bid labels Addenda as Amendments. The number is shown both at the top of the Bid window, and in the root folder.
